

Under Review - Remember, Repent and Resolve

Weekend Discussion Questions

January 2-3, 2016

Community:

1. Did you make any New Year's Resolutions this year? If so, what were they?
2. Have you been good about fulfilling resolutions in the past?
3. Why do you think it is so hard to make changes?

Core:

1. Scott Nickell said, "Your strategy is perfectly designed to achieve the results you are now experiencing." What strategy do you have now when the storms of life hit?
2. Read Psalm 106:21. When we read they "forgot the God who saved them", it means they lost trust in God's intentions. Have you lost trust in God, too? How?
3. Read 2 Chronicles 7:14. When God says being "called by my name," it means that if you believe in Jesus you are saved—and adopted in God's name. That is your identity. Where are some places (other than God) that you usually try to find your identity?
4. What do you think it means to humble yourself?
5. What are some ways you seek God's face?
6. Do you have parts of your past that God is asking you let go of—in order to move on? What steps do you need to take to truly let go of your past?

Challenge:

1. Write down these questions and answer them on your own. Bring your answers next time you meet to share:
 - Where did you do well in your life last year, and what will it take to do better?
(1) Financially (2) Physically (3) Relationally
 - Where did you do poorly, and how?
(1) Financially (2) Physically (3) Relationally
